INULA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING
SUMMARY OF MINUTES
April 27, 1973

H. Shaaban served as secretary in N. Ost's absence.

D. Fenske reported that the total profit from National Library Week was $2,587.35. $300 will be taken from this amount to fund next year's NLW activities. This brings the total amount for scholarships to $2,287.35.

The balance of operating funds for the Association stands at $362.28. The surplus of money now available in the InULA treasury was discussed. A committee might be suggested to study ways this money could be used; for example: instruction, workshops, in-service training, etc.

J. Nilson said that an Audit Committee should be appointed to audit the Associations books. Oleg Kudryk was suggested for this; E. Kiewitt will ask if he is willing to serve.

Lilian Riggs gave a report on NLW. Her praise was very high for all the members of her committee. Many departments were represented to the committee and this should be kept in mind for future committees. There were about nine members at the planning stage which was sufficient, but the committee found that many more members were needed at the working stage. Future committees would definitely need to push for more help in the evenings during the week of activities. The subcommittee responsible for the Arts and Crafts sale felt that it was too much work for the amount made and did not suggest that it be held again. The committee as a whole felt that the week was successful and that they had received good assistance from the library administration and the staff.

The Board asked L. Riggs to look into scholarship possibilities for the 1973 funds; she said she would work with the Scholarship Office and report her findings at the next business meeting.

E. Kiewitt stated that the Library Foundation Committee needed to be appointed and suggested that Monty Maxwell and Lilian Riggs be appointed as the committee. This was approved by the Board. The Board also approved the allocation of $20.00 for operating expenses for this committee.

The Nominating Committee was chosen by lot. Seven members were selected, with two alternates.

E. Kiewitt announced that Carol Tullis had requested that she be relieved of her duties as co-chairman of the Grievance Committee because of other committee assignments.

May 31st (Thursday night) was selected as the time for the next business meeting. Nominations and budget recommendations for the next year will be discussed at this time. A program will follow the business meeting.

REVIEW OF NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

The National Library Week Committee wishes to express deep appreciation to all of those who helped in different activities during National Library Week. We also appreciate the help offered by all of you who signed up but were not contacted by the committee. This was due to the fact that many people signed up for a particular hour but few were needed at a time.

We were pleased to see all departments of the library represented including library faculty, supportive staff from the Main Library and branch libraries, subject specialists and department heads. Without your assistance the committee would have been unable to carry out its planned activities.

You will be happy to know that both the Arts and Crafts and Book sales have brought, so far, over $2,700.00, minus expenses. (Marty Joachim is still making occasional sales) The other activities, the concert, the TV program with Dean Jackson and the drug talk by Prof. Alfred R. Lindesmith were very successful. Thank you again for making this possible.

INULA BUSINESS MEETING

March 21, 1973

Minutes

The meeting was called to order by the president Eva Kiewitt. The minutes of the January 24, 1973 business meeting were approved as read. David Fenske, treasurer, reported a balance of $600 in savings and $358.22 in the checking account.

Lilian Riggs, chairman of the National Library Week committee reported that although the committee had received many donations of books, more were needed. Members will receive a calendar of events for NLW in the next Scoop Sheet. She next read a letter from Judy Chaffin who expressed her thanks to InULA for making it possible for her to receive a scholarship this semester. Monte Maxwell asked for help from the members indistributing handbills and posters advertising NLW.

Karen Weddle gave a brief report on the trip to IUPUI.

Lois Heiser chairman of the Constitution and Bylaws committee led a discussion of the proposed revisions of InULA's Constitution and Bylaws. The ballots will be mailed to the members in a few days.

Monte Maxwell reported on the proposed Indiana University Library Foundation. He passed out copies of a motion to form a committee to plan the implementation of such a Foundation. In discussion of this motion, Villa Crowell asked if the University Library Committee had a place in this project. Maxwell replied that no one had been contacted yet, but that they should be. Mrs. Crowell then asked if the I.U. Foundation had been contacted. Maxwell said that he had been in touch with them, but he had been told to come back and work on this proposal through the Library and University Administrations. The motion was voted on and passed unanimously.

Alan Taylor, chairman of the Program and Social committee reminded members of the program April 14th at Fort Wayne. He asked for a show of hands of members interested in a trip to Chicago libraries. It was decided to try to plan this trip for some time in May.

The business meeting was adjourned.

A.L.A. AT LAS VEGAS

Jill Caldwell, assistant fine arts librarian, has volunteered to compile a list of I.U. librarians who will be attending the A.L.A. conference in Las Vegas. We would like this to include your housing location for the stay, as well as your name. Please send the information to Jill Caldwell at the Fine Arts Library or call 7-5743. Please give her the information by the end of May so we may include any listing in your June Scop Sheet. Thank you.

BETA PHI MU INITIATION

Formal initiation ceremonies were held Wednesday evening, April 18 at 8 o'clock for newly elected members of Beta Phi Mu, honorary association for librarians.

After the meeting, they were addressed by Robert L. Brubaker, librarian of the Chicago Historical Society, on "The Nurturing of Special Collections Librarians".

Refreshments and a business meeting followed for members of the nationally established honor group. Newly designated officers of the local Chi chapter are: president, Barbara J. Henn, acquisitions librarian, Regional Campus Libraries; vice-president, Joan S. Brewer, serials cataloger, I.U. Libraries; Royal Purcell, library research; Jill M. Caldwell, assistant fine arts librarian, Bloomington campus.

Initiates from the Bloomington area are Sue Ann Klipsch, Dolores Marie Lahrman, Julieann Virginia Nilson, and Virginia Hoeng Richey.

Other recent graduates who have achieved the high scholastic standing necessary for membership in Beta Phi Mu include Phillip K. Barton, Edith H. Beck, Janie K. Biddle, Elizabeth Ann Booth, Sara E. Cloutman, Francis James Cootee, Celia C. Gibson, Charlene T. Hally, Cynthia J. Karn, Serena W. Keach, Janet B. Keeler, Dorothy M. Kibler, Jean A. Koehler, Sara L. Laughlin, Lois J. Lehman, Cherly F. Longshore, Raymond E. Mabry, Carol G. Mangiaracina, Leslie E. Neil, Theophil H. Otto, Frederic E. Rusch, Frances Annette Seib, Frances Snyder, Karl Van Ausdal, Rebecca J. Whitaker, and Colette Young.

STUDENTS TO LAS VEGAS

Heckman Binder, Inc., North Manchester, Indiana, has awarded a grant to the Indiana University Graduate Library School to sponsor a student to attend the American Library Association's annual conference. Judith Niles has been awarded the grant to attend the 1973 conference in Las Vegas in June.

Steve Kershner has been nominated by the GLS student organization for participation in the ALA Students to Las Vegas Project. As part of the Project, ALA will provide housing and meals for thirty students to work with the conference staff June 23-29.

Students attending the conference will participate in ALA meetings and social events. The project is co-sponsored by the ALA Membership Committee and the Junior Members Round Table.

Miss Niles, of Bloomington, received her BA from the University of North Dakota and has a MA from the University of Wisconsin. Before being admitted to the Graduate Library School, she taught at Tarkio, Missouri and Grand Valley State College in Michigan.

Mr. Kershner, of Decatur, Indiana, has a BS from IUPUI Fort Wayne. He also attended the University of Southampton, England.

Eva Lively, GLS master's degree candidate, was selected as an alternate nominee.

GRADUATE LIBRARY SCHOOL

Bruce A. Shuman, Assistant Professor in the Graduate Library School was one of three workshop leaders conducting a two-day national workshop on librarianship and intellectual freedom on April 16 and 17, in Chicago. This workshop was sponsored by the American Library Association Educational Corporation. Mr. Shuman is now serving as a member of the Indiana Library Association Intellectual Freedom Committee, and was joined by Richard Darling, Dean of the Columbia University Graduate School of Library Service and J. Phillip Kroth of the School of Library and Information Science of the University of Pittsburgh, on the panel of resource persons.

The goals of this meeting was to educate a representative group of librarians to the role intellectual freedom plays in library service in America. Intellectual freedom is the philosophic basis of librarianship, and as defined by the American Library Association, means that librarians should strive to make available to all individuals, all points of view on all questions and issues. Each workshop participant was asked to consider intellectual freedom as it relates to the library, to society, and to the individual's role in society.

After the workshop, participants were responsible for planning a similar program in their home states. In this way, they will be able to share their special knowledge with their colleagues and other members of the community.
