POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS
INDIANA UNIVERSITY-BLOOMINGTON CAMPUS

Tenure Track Faculty Position in International Affairs

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) at Indiana University (IU) seeks to appoint a tenure-track faculty member in International Affairs. Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in Asia or Europe, and substantive policy interests in international trade, energy, environment, health, immigration, or national security. Professional experience with the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund or similar organizations is desired. Prospective applicants should be comfortable working in an interdisciplinary academic research environment. The appointment is expected to be at the Assistant Professor level, but a more senior appointment is possible for an exceptionally qualified candidate. Applicants must present evidence of high quality scholarship and a strong commitment to high quality teaching. A Ph.D., JD, or equivalent terminal degree is required in an appropriate field before the appointment is completed.

SPEA is a multidisciplinary division of Indiana University located on the Bloomington and Indianapolis campuses and has affiliated programs on four of IU’s regional campuses. SPEA is organized as a professional school committed to excellence in research, teaching, and service and to addressing critical issues of public policy and management. Faculty members teach required and elective courses at the undergraduate, professional masters and doctoral levels. SPEA is one of the largest U.S. public affairs school in the nation with a total of more than 70 tenure-track faculty on its two main campuses, Bloomington and Indianapolis. The graduate program consistently ranks among the best in the country.

Review of applications will begin October 27, 2008 and continue until the position is filled. Please submit a letter of application, current vita, complete contact information, and three letters of recommendation to:

Dr. David A. Reingold
Associate Dean for Bloomington
SPEA, Room 300
