

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS
INDIANA UNIVERSITY-BLOOMINGTON CAMPUS

Director, Master of Public Affairs Program

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) at Indiana University seeks to appoint a tenure-track or non-tenure track faculty member to serve in the capacity of Director, Master of Public Affairs Program for our nationally ranked degree program on the Bloomington campus. This diverse program includes concentrations in public finance, policy analysis, public and nonprofit management, comparative and international affairs, and environmental and natural resource management.

The Director, who will report to the SPEA Associate Dean for Bloomington, will oversee marketing, student recruitment, curriculum, course scheduling, the Washington Leadership Program, student financial aid, degree requirements, and graduation ceremonies. The director will also collaborate with the SPEA Career Services Office on internships and placements, the External Affairs Office on communications and development, and with other units of the University on joint-degree programs. It is anticipated the Director will serve at least one five-year term.

SPEA is committed to selecting a talented individual with exceptional energy, interpersonal skills and leadership ability. It is expected that successful applicants for this position will hold the necessary professorial (tenured or non tenured) rank with an appropriate record of research, service, and teaching commensurate with their level of academic and professional experience. Candidates are expected to hold a Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree in a related field.

SPEA is consistently ranked as one of the top programs in the country. Building on a generation of growth and scholarly achievement, SPEA aspires to be “the best of its class” with a faculty and student body who have a global perspective and who appreciate the value of unconventional careers that span the public, non-profit and for-profit sectors.

Review of applications will begin July 15, 2009 and continue until the position is filled. Please submit a letter of application, current vita, complete contact information, and three letters of recommendation electronically to: speahr@indiana.edu or hard copy to:
