

Clinton V. Oster Jr., Ph.D.

Professor, Public and Environmental Affairs
Associate Dean, Bloomington Programs
Professor, Business (part-time)

Expertise:

Aviation safety, airline economics and competition policy, international aviation, aviation infrastructure, environmental and natural resource policy, government regulation, and business-government relations.

Be educated.

The Faculty

Our faculty members are leading-edge research scientists, serious scholars, and dedicated educators. They are award-winning teachers and investigators. As is indicated by the spectrum of academic accolades they've garnered—from National Science Foundation CAREER awards for promising new scholars, to Fulbright Senior Scholar funding—our faculty members are both innovative and well-respected. They publish in the top journals in their fields as well as author important books on topics such as nonprofit fundraising and environmental justice. Their research effects change, makes a difference in political and ecological systems, and is funded with millions of dollars of grant money each year.

In addition to faculty members' research and teaching excellence, they are quite simply a group of interesting people. We have in our midst a private pilot, a collector of presidential memorabilia, a baker of 45-pound, three-tiered wedding cakes, an accident investigator for the Indy Racing League, a rugby referee, a "failed cornet player," a choral singer, a contra dancer, an opera lover, a gardener, a woodworker—as well as several golfers, tennis players, fly fishermen, college sports enthusiasts, and weekend motorcyclists. The faculty have character as well as clout, and they create a friendly yet academically rigorous environment for their graduate students.

Astrid E. Merget

PhD, Syracuse University, 1973

merget@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/merget.php>

Interests: Government performance, nonprofit leadership and management, intergovernmental relations.

Note: Dean of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Past co-chair, United Way of America, Task Force on Outcomes. Member, U.S. Comptroller General's Research and Education Advisory Panel. Fellow and past chair of the Board of Trustees, National Academy of Public Administration. Former president of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration and founding member of the Council of Environmental Science Deans and Directors.

Osita G. Afoaku

PhD, Washington State University, 1993

osfoaku@indiana.edu

Interests: International relations (theory, foreign policy/national security, political economy); comparative politics (political development, third world/African politics, theory); multicultural studies (African and African-American); public administration.

Robert Agranoff

PhD, Political Science, University of Pittsburgh, 1967

agranoff@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/agranoff.php>

Interests: Intergovernmental relations (U.S. and cross-national), economic and community development, management of public agencies, governance, intergovernmental management, federal arrangements.

Note: Emeritus. Part of U.S. Department of Agriculture team studying federal state rural development partnerships; affiliated with Fundación Ortega y Gasset, Madrid, Spain; research focuses on intergovernmental management of city economic development; examines federal and intergovernmental arrangements.

David Audretsch

PhD, Economics, University of Wisconsin, 1980
daudrets@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/audretsch.php>

Interests: Economic policy, entrepreneurship, innovation, globalization, regional economic policy, industrial restructuring and government policy, small enterprises in Europe and the United States.
Note: Has served as a research fellow at the Centre for Economic Policy Research in London since 1992. Recipient of the 2001 International Award for Entrepreneurship and Small Business Research. Editor, Small Business Economics: An International Journal.

Matthew R. Auer

PhD, Forestry and Environmental Studies, Yale University, 1996
mauer@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/auer.php>

Interests: Environmental policy and management problems in the international arena: the public administration of environmental protection in comparative context, international environmental aid, international organizations and environmental affairs, comparative industrial environmental policy, international policies governing forests and forestry.
Note: Recent research examines strategies for public managers and policy analysts who work in international environmental arenas.

Randall Baker

PhD, Natural Sciences, University of London, 1968
bakerr@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/baker.php>

Interests: Bridging the gap between the natural and social sciences, comparative study on different perspectives regarding the way problems are perceived and handled, historical perspectives in the analysis of contemporary environmental and policy problems.
Note: Author of a book series exemplifying the congruence of these comparative studies.

A. James Barnes

JD, Harvard University, 1967
barnesaj@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/barnes.php>

Interests: Environmental law, domestic and international environmental policy, ethics and the public official, mediation and alternative dispute resolution, law and public policy, commercial law.
Note: Served as dean of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs (1988-2000). Adjunct professor of law. Helped establish the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in 1970 and later served as its general counsel and as its deputy administrator. Also served as general counsel of U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Lisa Blomgren Bingham

JD, University of Connecticut, 1979
lbingham@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/bingham.php>

Interests: Collaborative governance, dispute resolution, dispute system design, mediation, administrative law, labor and employment law.
Note: Keller-Runden Chair of Public Service and director, Indiana Conflict Resolution Institute, a national dispute resolution research center.

Anthony A. Blasingame

PhD, Economics, University of Maryland College Park, 2002
ablasing@indiana.edu

Interests: Public finance, labor economics, poverty, and U.S. political economy.

Charles F. Bonser

DBA, Indiana University, 1965
bonser@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/bonser.php>

Interests: Regional economic development, the role of nongovernmental organizations, public policy, transatlantic education and policy.
Note: Dean emeritus of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs and first appointee to the Ameritech Endowed Chair in Economic Development. Director of the school's graduate course in European policy in Paris with Ecole Nationale d'Administration. Director of the Indiana University Master's Degree in Arts Administration Program. Chair of the Transatlantic Policy Consortium.

Melissa A. L. Clark

MSES, Indiana University, 1999
mlaneye@indiana.edu

Interests: Aquatic and terrestrial habitats. Works closely with the Indiana Clean Lakes Program, water resources and water quality
Note: Lecturer.

Christopher Craft

PhD, Soil Science, North Carolina State University, 1987
ccraft@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/craft.php>

Interests: Terrestrial and wetland ecosystem restoration, wetlands ecology, soil resources, biogeochemistry, nutrient cycling and carbon sequestration of soils and sediments, wetlands, climate change and sea level rise.

Michael A. Edwards

PhD, Chemistry, North Dakota State University, 1999
miedward@indiana.edu

Interests: Atmospheric chemistry research: mechanistic studies of terpenes reacting with ozone; future regulation of hydrogen storage materials.
Note: Fourier transform mass spectrometry is the choiced analytical technique to be used for the subsequent detection, isolation, and structural characterization of reaction intermediates and products among terpenes and ozone. Gaseous hydrogen is an alternative source of clean burning fuel and Prof. Edwards is interested in the development of environmental policies that will be used to regulate these storage materials.

Sergio Fernandez

PhD, Public Administration, University of Georgia, 2004
sefernand@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/fernandez.php>

Interests: Public management and organization theory, with a focus on privatization and contracting out, public sector leadership, and organizational change.
Note: Presently involved in research on several other issues relating to privatization, including the use of contracting for services by local governments, the impact of contracting out on the size of the public work force, and public employee opposition to privatization.

Burnell C. Fischer

PhD, Purdue University, 1974
bufische@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/fischer.php>

Interests: Forestry, particularly silviculture and urban forestry; growth and development of Central Hardwood forest stands and the response to various silvicultural practices; community and urban forestry issues; forest resources policy and state government management; human factors relating to forests and forest products, particularly with regards to collaborative forestry.
Note: Served as president of the National Association of State Foresters (2003-04) and worked with Congress, federal agencies, and NGOs on national forestry issues. Previously, served a three-year term on the 15-person National Urban and Community Forestry Advisory Committee, which advised the Secretary of Agriculture. Affiliate faculty member in the Workshop in Political Theory and Policy Analysis. Adjunct professor at Purdue University's Department of Forestry and Natural Resources.

Beth Gazley

PhD, Public Administration, University of Georgia, 2004

bgazley@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/gazley.php>

Interests: Teaches public and nonprofit management, including human resources management. Research interests include civic engagement, volunteer management, inter-organizational collaboration, “new governance” and government-nonprofit relations. Professor Gazley has published in Public Administration Review, Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Quarterly, Nonprofit Management and Leadership, the Book of the States, and elsewhere.

Note: Before entering academia, she served 15 years in the nonprofit sector as a fundraiser, volunteer, board member and management consultant.

David Good

PhD, Public Policy Analysis, University of Pennsylvania, 1985

good@indiana.edu

Interests: Quantitative policy modeling, productivity measurement in public and regulated industries, urban policy analysis.

Kirsten Grønbjerg

PhD, Sociology, University of Chicago, 1974

kgronbj@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/gronbjerg.php>

Interests: Nonprofit and public sector relationships. Current work examines the scope and community dimensions of the Indiana nonprofit sector. Previous work has examined how nonprofit organizations manage funding relations, the facility needs of nonprofit human service organizations, the structure of private child welfare organizations, longitudinal changes in the grants and contract system of a large state human service agency, public and philanthropic planning and funding structures in human services, and the American welfare system.

Note: Holds the Efrogmson Chair in Philanthropy at the Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University

Hendrik M. Haitjema

PhD, Civil Engineering, University of Minnesota, 1982

haitjema@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/haitjema.php>

Interests: Groundwater flow modeling, including regional groundwater flow systems, conjunctive surface water and groundwater flow modeling, three-dimensional groundwater flow, and saltwater intrusion problems. Emphasis on application of analytic functions to modeling groundwater flow, specifically the analytic element method.

Note: Recent research includes: coupling the analytic element model GFLOW to the finite difference model MODFLOW, development of a fast direct matrix solution method, modeling coastal interface flow, modeling of lake-groundwater interactions, analysis of groundwater residence time distributions in regional aquifers, development of three-dimensional analytic solutions to unconfined flow near a partially penetrating well, and capture zone delineation for wellhead protection. Author of groundwater flow models WhAEM and GFLOW (co-author on graphical user interfaces).

Diane Henshel

PhD, Neuroscience, Washington University, 1987

dhenshel@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/henshel.php>

Interests: Sublethal health effects of environmental pollutants, especially pollutant effects on the developing organism, including the effects of polychlorinated dibenzo-p-dioxins (PCDDs) and related congeners on the developing nervous system of birds exposed in the wild and under controlled laboratory conditions.

Adam W. Herbert

PhD, Urban Affairs/Public Administration, University of Pittsburgh, 1971

iupres@indiana.edu

Interests: Public policy analysis, effective administration of public sector enterprises, the politics and policy dimensions of public education. Most current interests include the politics of higher education and the policy, political, and administrative challenges of enhancing public education from pre-K through higher education, with particular emphasis on issues that impact low income and minority communities.

Note: President of Indiana University; former chancellor, State University System of Florida; former president, University of North Florida; White House fellow and special assistant to the U.S. Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Ronald Hites

PhD, Analytical Chemistry, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1968

hitesr@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/hites.php>

Interests: Applying organic analytical chemistry techniques to the analysis of trace levels of toxic pollutants, such as polychlorinated biphenyls and pesticides, with a focus on understanding the behavior of these compounds in the atmosphere and in the Great Lakes.

Note: Won the American Chemical Society's 1991 Award for Creative Advances in Environmental Science and Technology and the 1993 Society of Environmental Toxicology and Chemistry's Founders Award. Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science since 1996.

Christopher Hunt

MA, History and Anglo-Saxon, Trinity College, Cambridge University, 1961

Huntc@indiana.edu

Interests: International nonprofit administration especially opera and other performing arts.

Note: Formerly Director of the Alte Oper, Frankfurt Germany; Artistic Director of international festivals including Adelaide (Australia), PepsiCo Summerfare (Purchase, NY), and Wolf Trap (Vienna, VA); previously, President of the British Association of Concert Agents.

Chaman L. Jain

PhD, Indiana University, 1975; MPA, Indiana University 1982

cjain@indiana.edu

Interests: Governmental and nonprofit accounting and reporting, financial management in non-profit organizations, public finance administration.

Craig Johnson

PhD, Public Administration, SUNY at Albany, 1993

crjohns@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/johnsonc.php>

Interests: Capital markets and financial intermediation, financial management, public budgeting and finance, financing e-government, financing economic development, environmental and infrastructure finance. Research focuses on the innovative financing structures, financial certification, and resolving financial distress.

Note: Co-editor of the recently released volume Tax Increment Financing and Economic Development: Uses, Structures and Impact. Currently working on three projects: the financing and pricing of e-government services for PricewaterhouseCoopers Endowment for the Business of Government; state government credit quality certification; and the financial management of community development corporations such as Eastside Community Investments.

William W. Jones

MS, Water Resources Management, University of Wisconsin, 1977

joneswi@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/jonesb.php>

Interests: Lake and watershed management, especially diagnosing lake and watershed water quality problems; preparing management plans to address problems identified; stream ecology. Also works in Caribbean coral reef ecology and underwater archaeology. Is a certified lake manager (CLM).

Note: Editor of LakeLine, quarterly magazine of the North American Lake Management Society.

Robert S. Kravchuk

PhD, Political Science, Syracuse University, 1989

kravchuk@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/kravchuk.php>

Interests: Political economy, democratization, and market transition of formerly socialist countries, fiscal reform, budgeting, governmental accounting and financial reporting.

Note: Served as financial advisor to the president of Bosnia-Herzegovina; appointed by the U.S. secretaries of state and the treasury to coordinate U.S. Department of Treasury technical assistance on matters of tax policy and administration, expenditure management, and fiscal and monetary policies. From 1993 to 1994, served as resident budget advisor to the Ukrainian minister of finance. Former deputy budget director, State of Connecticut.

Kerry Krutilla

PhD, Economics, Duke University, 1988

krutilla@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/krutilla.php>

Interests: Energy policy, resource management in developing countries, environmental regulation, public choice, cost-benefit analysis.

Note: Contract research for the U.S. Department of Energy and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Consulting for the World Bank, the U.S. State Department, and the (former) Harvard Institute for International Development.

Marc L. Lame

PhD, Arizona State University, 1992

mlame@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/mlame.php>

Interests: Implementation of integrated pest management programs in schools and daycare facilities.

Note: Serves on the Indiana Department of Environmental Management's Air Toxics and Asthma Advisory Council, is on the Board of Directors for the Improving Kids' Environment Coalition (IKE), and on the Board of Directors for the International Urban Integrated Pest Management Association

Leslie Lenkowsky

PhD, Education, Harvard University, 1982

llenkows@iupui.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/lenkowsky.php>

Interests: Nonprofits and public policy, civil society in comparative perspective, institutional grant-makers, volunteering and civic engagement, and education and social welfare policy.

Note: Chief executive officer of the Corporation for National and Community Service, 2001-2003.

Joyce Y. Man

PhD, Economics, Johns Hopkins University, 1992.

yman@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/man.php>

Interests: Public finance, urban and regional economics, international trade, economic development, public budgeting and financial management.

Note: Served as research fellow at the Center for Urban Policy and Environment at Indiana University since 1992. Co-editor of the book, Tax Increment Financing and Economic Development: Uses, Structures and Impact. Her research has been published in Public Finance Review, Journal of Urban Economics, National Tax Journal and other academic journals.

Eugene B. McGregor Jr.

PhD, Political Science, Syracuse University, 1968

mcmgregor@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/mcmgregor.php>

Interests: Interaction of public policy, organizational structure, and management practice. Special interest in the relationship between education and economic development and in the impacts of information technology on the structure and management of public and nonprofit enterprise.

Note: Currently working on a book on strategic change and innovation that deals with the linkages between policy goals, implementation structures, strategies, and operations management.

Michael McGuire

PhD, Public Policy, Indiana University, 1995

mcmguirem@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/mcguire.php>

Interests: Intergovernmental and interorganizational collaboration and networks, federalism and intergovernmental relations, public management.

Note: Research includes a study of collaborative management in economic development in 237 cities in the Midwest. Currently, Prof. McGuire is studying emergency preparedness in U.S. counties and collaboration within the area of developmental disabilities. Prior to his current appointment, he served as director of the Master of Public Administration program at the University of North Texas.

Vicky Meretsky

PhD, Wildlife Ecology, University of Arizona, 1995

meretsky@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/meretsky.php>

Interests: Ecology and management of rare species, biocomplexity, landscape-level species and community conservation, temporal patterns in biodiversity, and integrating ecosystem research and endangered species management within adaptive management.

Note: Current research includes ecological portion of model relating socioeconomic and institutional factors to rates of deforestation and reforestation in southern Indiana, landscape-level approaches to biodiversity conservation, and rare species ecology and management.

John L. Mikesell

PhD, Economics, University of Illinois, 1969

mikesell@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/mikesell.php>

Interests: Governmental finance, especially questions of policy and administration of sales and property taxation; state lotteries; public budgeting; public finance in countries of the former Soviet Union.

Note: Editor of Public Budgeting & Finance. Prof. Mikesell's textbook, Fiscal Administration (7th ed., 2007), is the standard in many public administration programs.

Theodore K. Miller

PhD, Geography, University of Iowa, 1970

millert@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/miller.php>

Interests: Statistical analysis.

Note: Recent research focused on various problems considered within the framework of structural equation modeling.

Emilio Moran

PhD, University of Florida, 1975

moran@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/moran.php>

Interests: Comparative politics and development; Southern African politics; ethics and politics.

Note: Professor (part-time) of Public and Environmental Affairs, Adjunct Professor of Geography, Rudy Professor of Anthropology. Director, Anthropological Center for Training and Research on Global Environmental Change (ACT). Co-director, Center for the Study of Institutions, Population and Environmental Change.

Patrick O'Meara

PhD, Political Science, Indiana University, 1970

omeara@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/omeara.php>

Interests: Comparative international development; Southern African politics; ethics and politics.

Note: Dean, Office of International Programs.

Clinton V. Oster Jr.

PhD, Economics, Harvard University, 1978
oster@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/oster.php>

Interests: Aviation safety, airline economics and competition policy, international aviation, aviation infrastructure, environmental and natural resource policy, government regulation, and business-government relations.

Note: Associate Dean for Bloomington Programs. Has co-authored a public policy textbook and four research books on various aspects of aviation. His research on transportation has appeared in a wide variety of journals and in the Handbook of Airline Strategy. Has served on nine special study committees for the National Academy of Science and has chaired two of those committees. Is active in the Transportation Research Forum, serving as president in 1995–96. Served as research director for the Aviation Safety Commission in 1987–88 and is former associate dean of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs and former director of Indiana University's Transportation Research Center. Has served as an expert witness for both the Environment and Natural Resource Division and the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice. Has been a consultant on aviation and other transportation issues to the U.S. Department of Transportation, Transportation Security Administration, Federal Aviation Administration, National Association of State Attorneys General, NASA, the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, state and local governments, and private sector companies in the United States, Canada, the UK, Russia, and Australia.

James A. Palmer

JD, Indiana University, 1971
japalmer@indiana.edu

Interests: Legal policy research and analysis, election law and administration, administrative law and processes.

Note: Former research scientist and attorney with Indiana University's Transportation Research Center with focus on public policy, legal research, and development and delivery of training programs for public sector personnel. Full-time Lecturer.

David Parkhurst

PhD, Botany (Plant Ecology), University of Wisconsin—Madison, 1970
parkhurs@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/parkhurs.php>

Interests: Physiological plant ecology, including transfers of carbon dioxide and water between leaves and atmosphere and among the cells within leaves, both in relation to leaf structure. Mathematics and statistics applied to environmental issues; examples include analysis of concentrations of indicator bacteria at swimming beaches, and correct interpretation of statistical hypothesis tests in decision making.

Note: Emeritus. Prof. Parkhurst is author of a textbook, Introduction to Applied Mathematics for Environmental Science, published by Springer, 2006.

Roger B. Parks

PhD, Political Science, Indiana University, 1979
parks@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/parks.php>

Interests: Studies the organization and governance structures of metropolitan areas and their effects on effectiveness, efficiency, equity, and responsiveness of public service delivery; community policing.

Note: Emeritus. Recent research includes a study of police work by patrol officers engaged in community policing in Indianapolis and St. Petersburg, Florida.

D. Jeanne Patterson

DBA, Business Administration, Indiana University, 1967
patters@indiana.edu

Interests: Financial management, government accounting and corporate governance.

Note: Emeritus. Working as senior research associate, The Corporate Library, Portland, Maine.

Flynn W. Picardal

PhD, Civil Engineering, University of Arizona, 1992
picardal@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/picardal.php>

Interests: Bioremediation, environmental microbiology, and biogeochemistry with a focus on the microbial reduction of iron oxides and nitrate, transformation of metals and chlorinated hydrocarbons, and combined microbial-geochemical interactions.

Maureen A. Pirog

PhD, Public Policy Analysis, University of Pennsylvania, 1981
pirog@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/pirog.php>

Interests: Policy analysis and evaluation, poverty and income maintenance, child support enforcement, welfare reform, and adolescent parenting.

Note: Prof. Pirog is the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Policy Analysis and Management and the co-director of the IU Institute for Family and Social Responsibility. She currently directs a project on policy analysis with the Higher School of Economics in Moscow sponsored by the U.S. Agency for International Development. She consults on policy evaluation in the Caribbean for the InterAmerican Development Bank. She also directs the National Child Support Enforcement Research Clearinghouse, the largest child support library, available on the Internet. She is also completing a national demonstration project involving e-government innovations in the child support program.

Orville W. Powell

MPA, Pennsylvania State University, 1963
oporwell@indiana.edu

Interests: Local government and the United States Constitution.

Note: Thirty-three years in city management. Served as city manager of Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Gainesville, Florida; and Durham, North Carolina. Worked as a consultant with local governments in Russia, Bulgaria, Swaziland, New Zealand, India, and Japan. Author of City Management: Keys to Success.

Nicole C. Quon

PhD, Health Policy and Administration, Yale College, December 2006
ncquon@indiana.edu

Interests: Health policy and health politics, the influence of politics and science on decision making at federal agencies, how perceptions of access and quality of care within health care institutions are shaped by patient knowledge and market forces.

J. C. Randolph

PhD, Ecology, Carleton University—Ottawa, 1972
randolph@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/randolph.php>

Interests: Forest ecology. Ecological aspects of global environmental change, with particular interests in forestry and agriculture. Applications of geographic information systems (GIS) and remote sensing in environmental and natural resources management. Regional-scale landscape modeling. Physiological ecology of woody plants and of small mammals.

Note: Director, PhD in Environmental Science program. Director, MS in Environmental Science program. Director, Midwestern Regional Center of the National Institute for Global Environmental Change, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy. Principal investigator in the Center for the Study of Institutions, Population, and Environmental Change, sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Member, Indiana Energy Development and Recycling Board. Member, Ecological Society of America.

David A. Reingold

PhD, Sociology, University of Chicago, 1996
reingold@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/reingold.php>

Interests: Poverty, social policy, low-income housing policy, civil society, government performance, and program evaluation

Note: Current research examines the impact of low income housing programs on health; identifying the characteristics and causes of homeless families; and the impact of state civic education policies on youth pro-social behavior.

Terri L. Renner

MBA, Indiana University, 1985
trenner@indiana.edu

Interests: Financial management, information systems, and entrepreneurship.

Rafael Reuveny

PhD, Political Science, Economics (joint), Indiana University, 1997
rreuveny@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/reuveny.php>

Interests: International political economy with emphasis on globalization; rise and fall of major powers; political conflict and how it interacts with international trade, democracy, and the environment; sustainable development; Middle East political economy.

Edwardo L. Rhodes

PhD, Policy Analysis, Carnegie-Mellon University, 1978
rhodes@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/rhodes.php>

Interests: Public policy analysis, particularly public sector applications of management science in the evaluation and assessment of the efficiency or organization performance of public activities, including environmental and natural resource policy implementation.

Note: Research focuses on environmental justice or equity as it applies to the economic and social impacts of environmental activities. Helped develop a new evaluation technique, data envelopment analysis (DEA), to assess variations in relative environmental risk and exposure across demographic classifications within a community or region. Currently active in developing the Indiana University Environmental Policy and Law Institute, devoted to exploring issues that combine public policy, law, and business to further research and improve the environmental policy decision-making process.

Kenneth R. Richards

JD, The Law School, University of Pennsylvania, 1997
PhD, Public Policy and Management, The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, 1997
kenricha@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/richards.php>

Interests: Climate change policy, carbon sequestration economics, environmental policy implementation and instrument choice.

Evan J. Ringquist

MA, PhD, Political Science; MS, Land Resources, University of Wisconsin—Madison, 1990
eringqui@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/ring.php>

Interests: Public policy (environmental, energy, natural resources, and regulation), research methodology, American political institutions.

Note: Member of editorial boards of Policy Studies Journal, Social Science Quarterly, and State Politics and Policy Quarterly.

Todd V. Royer

PhD, Biology, Idaho State University, 1999
troyer@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/royer.php>

Interests: Aquatic biogeochemistry and watershed processes, particularly in agricultural landscapes; water quality and the development of nutrient standards.

Note: Recent research has addressed nitrogen cycling in agricultural streams, watershed nutrient budgets in Illinois, and the development of phosphorus standards for Illinois streams and rivers. Other projects are investigating the potential effects of transgenic crops on aquatic ecosystems and the biogeochemistry of organic carbon in agricultural streams.

Barry Rubin

PhD, Urban and Regional Analysis and Planning, University of Wisconsin—Madison, 1977
rubin@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/rubin.php>

Interests: Urban and regional economic development and impact analysis, quantitative analysis of local government management and labor relations issues, statistics and quantitative methods, econometric modeling, public management information systems, strategic planning and management.

Note: Teaches statistics and quantitative methods, management information systems, economic development and urban policy, and the capstone for the MPA. Advises state and local government agencies on issues of economic development, economic impact, local government management, and public planning.

Richard S. Rubin

PhD, Labor Relations, Cornell University, 1973
rubin1@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/rubinr.php>

Interests: Labor management relations in the public sector with a particular focus on conflict resolution and labor management cooperation.

Note: Regularly serves as a mediator, fact finder, and arbitrator in collective bargaining disputes between public employee unions and government, specializing in state and local disputes.

Michael Rushton

PhD, Economics, University of British Columbia, 1990
mirushto@indiana.edu

Interests: Cultural economics, policy and administration, nonprofit and public organizations and management, tax policy.

Note: Recent publications focus on government funding for the arts and other policies toward nonprofit organizations. Co-editor of the Journal of Cultural Economics.

Philip J. Rutledge

MPH, University of Michigan, 1958
LLD, Indiana University, 1980
rutledge@indiana.edu

Interests: International and comparative administration, environmental equity and sustainable development, workforce employment and development policy, intergovernmental relations, public policy and administration.

Note: Professor emeritus of public and environmental affairs and of political science. Consultant on economic and sustainable development project for Cape Coast Region, Ghana, West Africa; conserving rainforest, restoring former slave forts, developing tourism for the Midwest Universities Consortium for International Activities. Former chair, State of Indiana Job Training Coordination Council and member of the State of Indiana Human Resources Development Council; co-chair, Strategic Planning, Indiana Economic Development Council. Fellow and chair, Standing Panel on Social Equity in Governance, National Academy of Public Administration.

John W. Ryan

PhD, Political Science, Indiana University, 1959
ryan@indiana.edu
<http://www.indiana.edu/~spearweb/fcltydir/ryan.html>

Interests: Comparative public policy analysis, comparative university organization and policy, general public administration with special attention to higher education; governmental organization in Southeast Asia and Central and East Europe.
Note: President emeritus of Indiana University; consultant on intercollegiate athletics policy to the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Chancellor emeritus, State University of New York. Director, Foreign Policy Association.

Roy W. Shin

PhD, Political Science, University of Minnesota, 1969
shinr@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/shin.php>

Interests: Competition policy, international trade policy, and global environmental policy. Current research focuses on competition policy and telecommunications policy.

Note: Emeritus and Ameritech research scholar. Dean's Global Emissary for School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Chairman of the Board, Siskam, Inc. Has worked for the governments of Canada, the Republic of China, Egypt, Japan, and Korea, and multinational corporations.

Nan H. Stager

MS, Adult Education, Indiana University, 1978
nstager@indiana.edu

Interests: Mediation and alternative dispute resolution.

Note: Assistant Director of the Indiana Conflict Resolution Institute at Indiana University; certified mediation trainer for civil and domestic mediators; co-instructor of the Public Policy Mediation course at Indiana University School of Law-Indianapolis; task force member on promoting the use of ADR in state government.

Philip S. Stevens

PhD, Chemistry, Harvard University, 1990
pstevens@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/stevens.php>

Interests: Characterization of the chemical mechanisms that influence regional air quality and global climate change.

Note: Current research projects include laboratory studies of the chemistry of natural emissions from vegetation that play an important role in regional ozone production, and the development of instruments to measure ambient concentrations of reactive atmospheric oxidants.

Terry R. Usrey

MS, Computer Science, Indiana University, 1983
usrey@indiana.edu

Interests: e-Government, e-Democracy and technology services for not-for-profit organizations.

Frank J. Vilardo

DrPH, Health Administration, University of North Carolina, 1971
vilardo@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/vilardo.php>

Interests: Public and private health administration, focusing on injuries as a public health problem from a behavioral perspective. Drunk-driver countermeasures, transportation incidents involving radioactive materials, enforcement of local retail food inspection laws.

Note: Emeritus. Former chair of the Board of Directors of Bloomington Hospital. Member of the Monroe County Health Board and of the editorial board for the Journal of Safety Research.

Henry K. Wakhungu

PhD, Mathematics Education, Indiana University, 2004
bewakhun@indiana.edu

Interests: Development of growth simulation models for sustainable management of indigenous community forests, experimental designs in tropical forestry research, and how pre-service teachers conceptualize mathematics (philosophically) indexed with mathematics learning and teaching.

Note: Full-time Lecturer. Country Consultant (Kenya) Cultural Immersion Project for Overseas student teaching, Board of Directors (Open-Door Ministries).

Jeffrey R. White

PhD, Civil Engineering, Syracuse University, 1984
whitej@indiana.edu
<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/white.php>

Interests: Environmental biogeochemistry, aquatic chemistry, limnology.

Note: Research group is interested in biogeochemical cycling of elements in aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems. Projects include stable isotopic studies of the cycling of greenhouse gases in northern peatlands, nitrogen cycling in agricultural wetlands, and other topics related to the response of biogeochemical processes to human disturbance in aquatic and terrestrial environments.

York Willbern

PhD, Government, University of Texas, 1943
ywillber@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/willbern.php>

Interests: Urban government and politics, public administration, public policy.

Note: Emeritus. Occasionally teaches urban government and politics, public administration, and public policy.

Charles R. Wise

PhD, Political Science, Indiana University, 1972
wise@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/wisec.php>

Interests: Public law, public organizations, democratic transition. In the area of public law, focuses on impact of constitutions on public administration, judicial federalism, the liability of public officials and public organizations, regulatory takings, and environmental regulation. In the area of public organizations, focuses on the relationship between public law and public organizations, inter-organizational relationships, and organizational design. Recently the focus has been on organization for homeland security. In the area of democratic transitions, focuses on the transformation of legislative institutions and courts, particularly with reference to Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet Union.

Note: Project director of the Parliamentary Development Project, which is assisting the Parliament of Ukraine in developing legislative processes.

Lois Recascino Wise

PhD, Political Science, Indiana University, 1982
wisel@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/wisel.php>

Interests: Public management and employment policies and practices. Special interest in public management reform, including comparative studies of determinants of administrative reforms, variations in reform patterns, and cross-national differences in evaluation of reforms. Comparative research in pay policies and administrative pay reforms, bureaucratic behavior, and the consequences of human diversity for effective work organizations.

Note: Adjunct professor of political science and West European studies.

C. Kurt Zorn

PhD, Economics, Syracuse University, 1981
zorn@indiana.edu

<http://www.iu.edu/~spearweb/faculty/zorn.php>

Interests: State and local finance, transportation safety, economic development, gaming policy.

Note: Associate Dean, SPEA Academic and Fiscal Affairs. Has served as consultant to the U.S. Department of Commerce, the State of Indiana, Indiana Infrastructure, Inc., the President's Commission on Aviation and Safety, and the National Research Council. Also has served as chair, Indiana State Board of Tax Commissioners, 1991–94, and chair of Indiana Governor O'Bannon's Citizens' Commission on Taxes, 1997–98. Currently serves as a director, Indiana Bond Bank, and as a faculty associate with the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy.