› At the initiative of Professor Christopher Beckwith, the SRIFIAS is pleased to sponsor a new Central Eurasian Studies Colloquium. In principle, the colloquium will meet every other Wednesday from 4:00-5:00 p.m. in the Distinguished Alumni Room of the Indiana Memorial Union. It has met thrice already, led once by Professor Beckwith (“The Central Eurasian Culture Complex: Engine of Dynamic Change in Pre-Medieval Japan, France, and Tibet), once by the current holder of the Hungarian Chair, Ágnes Fülemile (“Royalties, Nobles, and Burgers in National Dress—Pageantry and Competing ‘Displays’ of Legitimacy in the Last Empires of Europe: The Case of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy”), and a second time by Professor Beckwith (“Scholastic Argument Structure in Medieval Central Asian Philosophical Texts). The schedule for the remainder of the fall semester is as follows:

December 3: “Selim ‘the Grim’: What’s in a Nickname?,” presented by Professor Erdem Çipa.
